

A Complete Guide To Bags

carry your world around in style

Clutch/Wristlet

Clutches and wristlets are great for an evening out on the town. They are best paired with cocktail dresses and other night time attire. The relatively small design will force you to pack only your essential belongings - ID, credit cards, cash, keys, etc.

Cross Body

Cross bodies are usually small in size with a long strap that hangs over one shoulder and goes across the entire body. These bags are perfect for those who are always on the go. Depending on the style and color, these bags can be worn both day and night.

Tote

Totes are extremely versatile and designed with storage and function in mind. They are perfect for a day of running errands or a weekend getaway. Dark colored totes go with almost any casual outfit. A vibrant colored or patterned tote pairs best with a neutral colored ensemble.

Satchel

This is the perfect bag for work because it's large enough to store documents and laptops and coordinates well with business attire. Most satchels are neutral colors, like black or brown. They are a step up from cross body bags in terms of storage and formality.

Hobo

This crescent shaped, over-the-shoulder-bag is one of the most popular handbags right now. The hobo bag has adequate amount of storage and maximum versatility. This pairs well with nearly everything and can be used in casual and formal settings.

Backpack

Backpacks are relatively large bags with two straps that are worn over both shoulders. In terms of storage and comfort, this bag is definitely at the top of the list. Backpacks pair well with casual, everyday attire and are a great option for college students or moms on the go.
